Seminar on IKS: NDLI Club Activity on 3rd November 2026

A seminar was organized on 3rd November 2026 by the NDLI Club of RCCIIT on the title "Communication Models in Indian Knowledge System". Dr. Sadhan Kumar Dey, expert in the field of Indian Knowledge System, delivered the talk in presence of more than 50 students. In his talk, Dr. Dey explored the rich and diverse perspectives on communication embedded in India's ancient intellectual and philosophical traditions. It examined how communication was conceptualised and practised through Vedic literature, Upanishads, classical Sanskrit texts, philosophical discourses, and traditional systems of knowledge transmission. The discussion highlighted indigenous communication models, emphasising the interconnected roles of the sender, receiver, message, medium, context, and feedback, while exploring concepts such as Shruti, Smriti, Guru-Shishya Parampara, Sabda, and Vak. Dr. Dey drawn attention to the significance of oral traditions, dialogue, storytelling, debate (Shastrartha), and non-verbal expressions in preserving and disseminating knowledge across generations. By connecting these traditional frameworks with contemporary communication theories, the talk aims to provide a deeper understanding of India's contribution to communication studies and highlight the relevance of indigenous knowledge paradigms in addressing present-day communication challenges. A few glimpses of the seminar are given below:

